

Andrea Montanino

Andrea Montanino is Chief Economist and Sector Strategy and Impact Director at Cassa Depositi e Prestiti.

Previously, he worked in several international institutions: he was Executive Director and member of the Board of the International Monetary Fund, Director of the Economic Analysis Program of the Atlantic Council in Washington D.C., and Senior Economist at the European Commission's Directorate-General for Economic and Financial Affairs.

In Italy, he was President of the Italian Investment Fund SGR, Director of the Confindustria Studies Center, General Manager of the Treasury Department at the Ministry of Economy and Finance and Head of the Technical Secretariat of Minister Padoa-Schioppa, Vice President of Mediocredito Centrale - Banca del Mezzogiorno.

He obtained a PhD at the Department of Economics of the University of Rome La Sapienza and a Master's degree from the London School of Economics.