

Enrico Giovannini

Enrico Giovannini is full professor of Economic Statistics and Sustainable Development at the University of Rome “Tor Vergata”. He was Minister of Sustainable Infrastructures and Mobility in the Draghi Government (February 2021 – October 2022) and Minister of Labor and Social Policies in the Letta Government (April 2013 – February 2014). He is co-founder and Scientific Director of the Italian Alliance for Sustainable Development (ASviS), a coalition of more than 300 organizations established to implement in Italy the UN 2030 Agenda. He was Director of Statistics and Chief Statistician of the OECD (2001-2009) and President of the Italian Statistical Institute (2009-2013). In October 2014, the President of the Italian Republic made him “Cavaliere di Gran Croce al Merito della Repubblica”, the highest ranking honor of the Italian Republic and in January 2023 he received an honorary PhD in Sustainable Development and Climate Change. He is the author of more than 130 articles published on national and international journals and six books on statistical and economic topics.