

Raoul Minetti

Raoul Minetti (PhD, London School of Economics, 2002) is full professor of economics and adjunct professor of finance at Michigan State University, United States. His areas of specialization include the interaction between macroeconomics and finance, the role of banks in the economy and the interaction between financial markets and corporate choices (innovation and internationalization). He currently serves as co-editor of the Oxford Economic Papers, associate editor of the Journal of Money, Credit and Banking, and member of the scientific committees of the Jo Cox Europe Prize and the Astrid Foundation's European Studies Group. He has been advisor and consultant for the International Monetary Fund, the World Bank and the Ministry of Economic Development. His publications have appeared in international economics and finance journals such as Journal of European Economic Association, Journal of Monetary Economics, Journal of Financial Economics, Economic Journal, Journal of Economic Theory, Journal of International Economics, Review of Economic Dynamics, International Economic Review, Journal of Money, Credit and Banking, European Economic Review, and Review of Finance. With Marcello Messori and Irene Tinagli he edited the book Identita' del Fare. Economia e Diritti nell'Europa del XXI Secolo (Luiss Press), with contributions written by the young winners of the Jo Cox Europe prize.