

Christian Lechner

Christian Lechner is Full Professor of Entrepreneurship and Director of the Department of Business and Management at Luiss Guido Carli. He has held teaching positions at the Free University of Bolzano and the Toulouse Business School in France.

He holds a Bachelor's and Master's degree in Business Administration from the LMU University of Munich (Ludwig-Maximilians-Universität München), an MBA from the University of Georgia, USA and a PhD in Business Administration from the University of Regensburg.

At the Free University of Bolzano he launched and directed the Doctorate in Economics and Management and was responsible for the development of Technology Transfer, the Research Cluster in Entrepreneurship and Innovation.

His research interests focus on the drivers of entrepreneurship and growth, entrepreneurial teams, heuristics, outliers and the interface between organizational design and performance. His research has been published in journals such as Journal of Business Venturing, Entrepreneurship Theory & Practice, Journal of Product Innovation Management, Entrepreneurship and Regional Development and International Small Business Journal. He is a Consulting Editor and member of the editorial board of the International Small Business Journal.

He has been actively involved in the development of entrepreneurial activities in the institutions he previously served. Christian Lechner launched and directed Masters in Entrepreneurship programs, the Incubator of Toulouse Business School, developed innovative financing tools together with public administration (matching funds for business angels, grants for young entrepreneurs, etc.), served on investment boards and acted as an advisor to startups.