

Christophe Geiger

Christophe Geiger is Professor of Law at Luiss Guido Carli University and Director as well as founder of the Innovation Law and Ethics Observatory (ILEO). Previously to his Luiss appointment, he taught at the Centre for International Intellectual Property Studies (CEIPI) of the University of Strasbourg (France), which he led as Director General and Director of the Research Department for 11 years. In addition, he is Spangenberg Fellow in Law & Technology at Case Western Reserve University School of Law's Spangenberg Center for Law, Technology & the Art, a founding member of the European Copyright Society, was an affiliated senior research fellow at the Max Planck Institute for Innovation and Competition in Munich (Germany) from 2008 to 2022, and President of the ATRIP, the International Association for the Advancement of Teaching and Research in Intellectual Property from 2022 to 2024.

He specializes in national, European, international and comparative intellectual property (IP) law, has acted as external expert for the European Parliament and the European Union Intellectual Property Office (EUIPO) and has drafted reports on IP for European and international institutions. He has taught in several universities as visiting professor or guest lecturer across Europe, Asia and the US (his latest appointment being Global Professor of Law at New York University (Fall 2023)), and published numerous articles as well as authored and edited several volumes in the field of IP, such as "Criminal Enforcement of Intellectual Property: A Handbook of Contemporary Research" (2012), "Constructing European Intellectual Property: Achievements and New Perspectives" (2013), "Research Handbook on Human Rights and Intellectual Property" (2015), and "Intellectual Property and the Judiciary" (with Craig Nard and Xavier Seuba, 2018) and "Research Handbook on Intellectual Property and Investment Law" (2020), "The Interface of Intellectual Property Law with other Legal Disciplines", 2025 (forthcoming). His new book entitled "Human Rights and Intellectual Property before the European Courts" (with Elena Izyumenko) is forthcoming with Edward Elgar Publishing.