

Romain Cohen

Romain Cohen is a Junior Research Analyst at the Luiss Hub for New Industrial Policy and Economic Governance (LUHNIP). He supports the think tank's research projects and contributes to the Monthly Brief on EU Industrial Policy. He holds a master's degree in European Studies from the Université Catholique de Louvain, where he wrote a thesis titled "Assessing the current state of the EU's Digital Sovereignty: To what degree could it influence the EU's competitive position in the ICT industry relative to China and the US."