

Andrea Filippetti

Andrea holds a PhD, M.A. and B.A. in Economics from the University “La Sapienza” of Rome. He is Research Director at the Institute of Studies on Regional and Federal Systems, National Research Council (CNR) in Rome, Italy, Adjunct Professor of Managerial Economics at the Luiss University of Rome, and Visiting Fellow at the Birkbeck Centre for Innovation Management Research and the Centre for Political Economy and Institutional Studies of the University of London, Birkbeck. His research interests lie on regional institutions and decentralization, the geography of innovation, knowledge economy and technological change, science and innovation policy. He is Fulbright-Schuman Post Doc at Harvard University, Center for European Studies, and Marie Curie Fellow at the London School of Economics and Political Science (LSE). He serves as consultant for the European Commission, the Italian Ministry of Economic Development at the Department for Cohesion and Economic Development (DPS), and the United Nations Education Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO).